MEDIA RELEASE

PULSE AUSTRALIA ANNOUNCES NEW CHAIRMAN AND THREE DIRECTORS

The Board of Pulse Australia Limited is pleased to announce the appointment of Mr Peter Wilson as Chairman, following the retirement from the position of long term incumbent, Victorian grower, Mr Gerald Feeny.

“On behalf of Pulse Australia, I’d like to acknowledge the outstanding contribution of Gerald Feeny as Chairman during the last six years and I am delighted that he will continue to remain on the Board,” Mr Wilson said. “As the peak pulse industry body, Pulse Australia plays a pivotal role in advancing the pulse industry in Australia. I’m honoured to be elected as Chairman and look forward to working with the members of the Board of Pulse Australia and the broader membership.”

Peter brings more than 20 years of industry experience to the position, including extensive knowledge of the agribusiness value chain, plant and animal genetics, production systems, quality assurance, logistics, risk and capital management and international marketing.

Peter is currently Manager - Global Supply Chain for JK International Pty Ltd, a Brisbane-based global commodity trader. He holds a postgraduate qualification in Agribusiness from Monash University and lectures for the Commodities and Risk Management Unit offered by the University of Queensland. Previously, Mr Wilson was the President of JK’s Americas operations based in Vancouver. Prior to this, he held a range of positions with AWB (formerly the Australian Wheat Board).

In addition to the appointment of Mr Wilson as Chairman, the membership of Pulse Australia has appointed three new directors, including Mr Sanjiv Dubey, Ms Angela Greenhalgh and Ms Caroline Rhodes. Together with Mr Wilson and Mr Feeny, they will be joined by deputy chairman, Mr David Matthews, Mr Ron Storey, Mr Francois Darcas, Mr Geoff Budd and Mr Denis Logan to form the new Board of Pulse Australia.

Background information:

Mr Sanjiv Dubey is the Manager of Pulses and Oilseeds trading with Sydney based Gardner Smith Pty Ltd. He holds a Masters degree in Economics/International Trade from the Delhi School of Economics and an MBA. Sanjiv is on the Executive Committee of the international pulse body CICILS IPTIC and also sits on the Grain Trade Australia panel of approved arbitrators.

Ms Angela Greenhalgh is the founder and principal of Dubbo based accumulator and marketer, Grainpro, which also runs a packing plant at Trangie. With extensive experience in finance and trading, she holds a Bachelor of Science and a Diploma in Export Management.

Ms Caroline Rhodes is Government Relations Manager at Viterra. Caroline has extensive experience in the areas of regulation and policy development in the Australian grains industry. Prior to joining Viterra, she held positions with Wheat Exports Australia, the Grains Council of Australia and the South Australian Farmers’ Federation. Caroline holds a Bachelor of Agricultural Science from the University of Adelaide, a Master of Agribusiness from the University of Melbourne and a Diploma from the Australian Institute of Company Directors.
